Presidents/ Rectors/ Vice Chancellors

Dear Presidents, Rectors, and Vice Chancellors,

Subject: Invitation to the AUN-QA International Conference 2020 on 16 - 17 March 2020, Indonesia

Institut Teknologi Bandung (ITB), in collaboration with ASEAN University Network (AUN) will organise the ASEAN University Network – Quality Assurance International Conference (AUN-QA IC) 2020 at The Trans Luxury Hotel in Bandung, Indonesia on 16 - 17 March 2020.

The AUN-QA IC is an international platform for Quality Assurance (QA) practitioners to share and exchange their QA knowledge and experiences on QA development and implementation. The previous AUN-QA IC, held earlier in March 2019, had attracted more than 400 participants from 16 Countries in Southeast Asia, Oceania and Europe. This year, with our embedded core value and culture of continuous improvement in mind, we would like to take steps toward change and looking beyond the measuring of quality. Therefore, the theme for this year's AUN-QA IC 2020 is "Measuring Quality and Beyond: Quality Assurance in Outcomes-Based Education (OBE)". The theme will revolve around the curriculum design methodology that is compatible and relevant to societal needs, teaching and learning pedagogy to promote active learning, how technology and digital innovations could become solutions to long-standing issues in higher education and redefine the very foundation of education, and how QA assures the quality of education despite the constantly changing higher education landscape.

In line with this, we would like to take this opportunity to extend an invitation to QA practitioners and those who are responsible for safeguarding/securing the future of education to participate in the AUN-QA IC 2020.

For more information and online registration, please visit www.aun-qa2020.itb.ac.id or contact us at aun-qa.int.conf2020@spm.itb.ac.id.

We highly appreciate your kind consideration. We are looking forward to welcoming you at the conference.

AUN-QA

INTERNATIONAL CONFERENCE 2020

*Measuring Quality
And*

BEYOND:

Quality Assurance in Outcomes-Based Education (OBE)

AUN-QA has been working in the ASEAN region to ensure strong quality assurance in higher education for over 20 years. One of the values that we wish to instil in the institutions we work with, are the ideas and practices of continuous improvement through external exposure and self-reflection; the values that are increasingly important in the era of the 4th Industrial Revolution and Education 4.0.

Higher education, being a staple part of a person's transition into employment, is being challenged and its relevance is constantly being questioned by the newer generation. The world is going through changes industrially and educationally. We are already seeing businesses having to reinvent themselves. On the other hand, the higher education sector has largely remained fundamentally the same for over a millennia. Transformation is needed for us to remain ourselves as the engine of future progress. We are at a crossroads and taking the first step in the right direction for positive change is difficult. There are no set paths to take; we are the trailblazers.

The AUN-QA, having embedded continuous improvement in our core values and culture, embraces that taking steps toward change is needed for the future of education and is now looking 'beyond' the measuring of quality. As it turns out, Quality Assurance (QA) is just one among several other essential ingredients that contribute to the formation and delivery of quality education. That is why, although QA will remain the final safeguard as we traverse into unknown territory, it is important not to overemphasize any one ingredient.

This year, the AUN-QA International Conference's (AUN-QA IC) theme will revolve around these other ingredients essential in attaining quality higher education. We will explore together, curriculum design methodology compatible and relevant to societal needs, teaching and learning pedagogy engenders active learning; and how technology and digital innovations could become solutions to long-standing issues in higher education and redefine the very foundation of education. Finally, we will learn how QA assures the quality of education despite the constantly changing higher education landscape.

AUN-QA International Conference 2020 will bring speakers from Australia, ASEAN, Europe, Korea, Japan, and many more, to discuss the entire process of creating, assuring and delivering of high quality education with Outcome-Based Education (OBE) as bedrock.
